

MIMOSA

Commissioned for Milan 2010, Mimosa is a captivating artwork featuring Philips Lumiblade OLEDs. The piece was inspired by the Mimosa family of plants, which change kinetically to suit their environmental conditions. The studio has used the slim form of individual OLEDs to create delicate light petals, forming flowers which open and close in response to visitors.

"Jason Bruges Studio enjoys working with Philips Lumiblades because of their incredibly slim profile and fantastic, even light quality."

Jason Bruges